Word of the Week:

Action

Dear parents and carers

On Monday, we invited children celebrating Ramadan and St David's day to wear traditional attire.

Year 6 children found out about their Secondary School places on Monday evening and on Tuesday they enjoyed a tour of Craven Cottage, Fulham football stadium.

On Wednesday we marked the start of Lent, Ash Wednesday with Mass for KS2 children led by St Andrew Kim class and afterwards a liturgy was held for Reception and KS1 children.

To mark World Book day on Thursday, with our focus on vocabulary, children and staff enjoyed reading activities in school. A huge thank you to Miss Parsons for leading on this enjoyable event. Whilst, I was not in school on Thursday (I was at the Merton Head teacher's Conference) I joined the children and staff with choosing a word for the day!

Congratulations to Ivy in Year 5, who entered the Young Writers' competition writing a 100-word story on a magical theme. Ivy's work 'The Year 2075' will be published in a book, called 'The Magical Map - Creative Tales' and will be published at the end of April - we are very proud of you.

Have a good weekend.

Wow Work

Congratulations to Ivy in Year 5—the short story she entered into the Young Writers Competition will be published next month.

The Year 2075
Mia felt a sense of weariness looming over her, an imaginary weight on her shoulders. She suddenly remembered she owned The Book. Her beloved grandfather had given her this treasure, but how could she access it? Vigorously, she tried swiping, face recognition and her grandfather's password but she couldn't get in. Trembling, knowing she had broken the law by owning this book made her shiver. Giving up, she tossed it aside, when the book flopped open and abruptly the curious title 'The Ferocious Creature' became a reality. A mantichore swooped above her, an expression of hunger on its menacing face...
